HYMN 592 (tune 122)

COLLECT

O God, forasmuch as without thee
we are not able to please thee;
Mercifully grant, that thy Holy Spirit
may in all things direct and rule our hearts;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

OLD TESTAMENT READING Genesis 2.18-24 read by Janet Lawson

Then the Lord God said, 'It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a helper as his partner.' So out of the ground the Lord God formed every animal of the field and every bird of the air, and brought them to the man to see what he would call them; and whatever the man called each living creature, that was its name. The man gave names to all cattle, and to the birds of the air, and to every animal of the field; but for the man there was not found a helper as his partner. So the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon the man, and he slept; then he took one of his ribs and closed up its place with flesh. And the rib that the Lord God had taken from the man he made into a woman and brought her to the man. Then the man said, 'This at last is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh; this one shall be called Woman, for out of Man this one was taken.' Therefore a man leaves his father and his mother and clings to his wife, and they become one flesh. And the man and his wife were both naked, and were not ashamed.

PSALM 8

- 1 O Lord our Governor, how excellent is thy Name in all the world :
thou that hast set thy glory above the heavens!
- 2 Out of the mouth of very babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength,
because of thine enemies :
that thou mightest still the enemy, and the avenger.
- 3 For I will consider thy heavens, even the works of thy fingers :
the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained.

- 4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him :
and the son of man, that thou visitest him?
- 5 Thou madest him lower than the angels :
to crown him with glory and worship.
- 6 Thou makest him to have dominion of the works of thy hands :
and thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet;
- 7 All sheep and oxen :
yea, and the beasts of the field;
- 8 The fowls of the air, and the fishes of the sea :
and whatsoever walketh through the paths of the seas.
- 9 O Lord our Governor :
how excellent is thy Name in all the world!

NEW TESTAMENT READING Hebrews 1.1-4, 2.5-12 read by James Luckey

Long ago God spoke to our ancestors in many and various ways by the prophets, but in these last days he has spoken to us by a Son, whom he appointed heir of all things, through whom he also created the worlds. He is the reflection of God's glory and the exact imprint of God's very being, and he sustains all things by his powerful word. When he had made purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, having become as much superior to angels as the name he has inherited is more excellent than theirs.

Now God did not subject the coming world, about which we are speaking, to angels. But someone has testified somewhere, 'What are human beings that you are mindful of them, or mortals, that you care for them? You have made them for a little while lower than the angels; you have crowned them with glory and honour, subjecting all things under their feet.'

Now in subjecting all things to them, God left nothing outside their control. As it is, we do not yet see everything in subjection to them, but we do see Jesus, who for a little while was made lower than the angels, now crowned with glory and honour because of the suffering of death, so that by the grace of God he might taste death for everyone.

It was fitting that God, for whom and through whom all things exist, in bringing many children to glory, should make the pioneer of their salvation perfect through sufferings. For the one who sanctifies and those who are sanctified all have one Father. For this reason Jesus is not ashamed to call them brothers and sisters, saying, 'I will proclaim your name to my brothers and sisters, in the midst of the congregation I will praise you.'

HYMN 487

GOSPEL READING Mark 10.2-16

The Holy Gospel is written in the tenth chapter of the Gospel according to Saint Mark, beginning at the second verse.

Some Pharisees came, and to test him they asked, ‘Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?’ He answered them, ‘What did Moses command you?’ They said, ‘Moses allowed a man to write a certificate of dismissal and to divorce her.’ But Jesus said to them, ‘Because of your hardness of heart he wrote this commandment for you. But from the beginning of creation, “God made them male and female.” “For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh.” So they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore what God has joined together, let no one separate.’

Then in the house the disciples asked him again about this matter. He said to them, ‘Whoever divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery against her; and if she divorces her husband and marries another, she commits adultery.’

People were bringing little children to him in order that he might touch them; and the disciples spoke sternly to them. But when Jesus saw this, he was indignant and said to them, ‘Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. Truly I tell you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will never enter it.’ And he took them up in his arms, laid his hands on them, and blessed them.

This is the Gospel of the Lord.

SERMON The Very Reverend Dianna Gwilliams
HYMN 505

MOTET Ego sum panis vivus, William Byrd (1540-1623)

Ego sum panis vivus, qui de caelo descendi.

Si quis manducaverit ex hoc pane, vivet in aeternum, Alleluia.

I am the living bread which came down from heaven.

Whosoever shall eat of this bread shall live forever, Alleluia.

text: John 6:51-52; Antiphon to the Benedictus at Lauds for Corpus Christi

PSALM 123, 124

RESPONSES William Smith (1603-1645)

JUBILATE in C, Benjamin Britten (1913-1976)

READINGS Isaiah 49.13-23; Luke 12.1-12

ANTHEM Christ Rising, William Byrd (1540-1623)

Christ rising again from the dead now dieth not.

Death from henceforth hath no power upon him.

For in that he died, he died but once to put away sin, but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

And so likewise count yourselves dead unto sin but living unto God, in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Christ is risen again, the first fruits of them that sleep.

For seeing that by man came death,

by man also cometh the resurrection of the dead.

For as in Adam all men do die, so by Christ shall all men be restored to life.

text: Romans 6:9-11, 1 Corinthians 15.20-22

All are welcome to the Choral Requiem on Friday 2 November at 7pm. During the service we will be reading out the names of all who died in the past year. If you are planning to attend and would like to add the name of a loved one to be read out please do so on the list available from the Steward after 8.00am Holy Communion, or on the Welcome Table at the west end of the Cathedral, or email Carolyn Howard Jones on liturgymusic@guildford-cathedral.org

God for Grown-ups - An 8 week course covering the main areas of Christian faith and practice

Would you like an opportunity to discuss issues of Christian faith and discipleship as they relate to contemporary 21st century life, or ask those tricky questions about Christian faith that you have wanted to ask for a long time? Would you like to know about Christian faith so that you can guide your children on their journey of faith or be interested in preparing for confirmation as an adult? Then God for Grown-ups is for you. Canon Paul will be running a Christian enquirers course designed to think through Christian faith for 21st century thinking adults. It will take place at his home with an informal atmosphere over tea and cake. If you are interested, please speak to him or e-mail Paul.Smith@guildford-cathedral.org

National Cathedrals Conference

“Sacred Space, Common Ground”: a delegation from Guildford joined clergy, musicians, operational and fundraising staff, virgers and representatives of chapter/council from the 41 English Cathedrals for the first national Cathedrals conference in Manchester. The conference was themed around Archbishop Justin's three priorities - prayer/renewal of religious life, reconciliation and witness. Alongside the worship and keynote addresses from Mayor Dan Jarvis, Bishop Stephen (Chelmsford), Dame Fiona Reynolds (Cathedral Fabric Commission for England) and Fr Timothy Radcliffe, there were a number of workshops on topics from governance to marketing, music outreach to public engagement. Our own local delegation will be meeting to discuss how the spirit and energy of the conference might impact on our life and ministry.

The journalist Andy Walton wrote the following article for the Church Times which can be accessed without a subscription:

GUILDFORD
CATHEDRAL

GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL is a place of prayer, reflection, work and celebration, held in particular affection by the many thousands of people who helped build it by buying a brick. There is much to offer to visitors and to those who are looking for a church community to call home. All regular weekday and Sunday services are open to all. The beautiful building and the excellent choral tradition contribute to making our Cathedral a place to which, once visited, you will want to return. As well as the rhythm of daily worship we maintain an exciting programme of arts, events, lectures, workshops, exhibitions and concerts.

The Cathedral is a centre for worship and mission to support the ministry of the Bishop in faith and engagement. The Cathedral is a sacred space and an open community of people who together engage with God and the wider world, for the common good. It is a focus and resource for the whole community: a place of daily choral worship, a space for stillness and prayer, a place of pilgrimage and a venue for concerts, art and education.
